NEVADA'S GOVERNMENT CLAIM.

Congressman Cassidy telegraphs his paper, the Eureka Sentinel, that the bill just passed to pay Nevada War claims, will put nearly $200,000 in the State Treasury. We are not sure, but think the Virginia Chronicle published a dispatch from Senator Fair, announcing the passage of the bill, and stating it would benefit Nevada more than $100,000. These gentlemen are certainly at fault in their reckoning. In 1871 A. C. Cleveland was appointed a special Commissioner to go to Washington and secure pay for amounts advanced for volunteers during the Rebellion and expenses incurred to suppress Indian hostilities. Claims, honest and dishonest, to the amount of $270,000 were presented, and Cleveland backed up by Controller Hobart and Treasurer Schooling, who were then East negotiating the sale of State bonds, appeared on behalf of the State before the Senate Committee on Claims. Senator Nye interested himself, and the result was the passage of a bill giving Nevada $60,000 in full for all claims against the Government up to that date. Since that period we have had the White Pine war and Elko Indian troubles, and the total due us only amounts to $22,305.62. It is not certain that this amount will be allowed for the bill just passed does not appropriate money to pay these claims, but simply authorizes the Secretary of war to certify, what, if any amount, is due Nevada. We shall have to wait until another session before we get our money, and should the Secretary refuse to certify that the State is entitled to the full amount claimed, we would not receive the $22,305.62. But under no circumstance is the State entitled to the extravagant estimate made by either Senator or Congressman, and we are a trifle anxious to have them make their exhibit.

STATE FINANCES.

The Eureka Sentinel, commenting upon Cassidy's dispatch about the $200,000 War Claims, says:

When the next Legislature meets, without the fund mentioned in the dispatch, our finances would be in a very bad condition. The constitutional borrowing capacity of the State has been largely drawn upon. The revenues of the State have dwindled down so as to fall far below the necessary expenses of the government. Without the $200,000 mentioned, which comes like a windfall, the State would have to be run on credit for at least one-half of the time between the next and the subsequent sessions of the Legislature. The emergency would not have been improbable of the State's being without money and without authority to borrow—which is equivalent to being without money and without credit. This unfortunate and extraordinary condition of things had already become a problem, and was occupying the minds of all who have material interests in Nevada and are not unfamiliar with the state of our finances. It did look as though the wheels of government would be stopped. Now would there have been any remedy. There was talk of resuming our former condition as a territory—for which there is no precedent, nor any law, so far as we are informed. This $200,000, under the law regulating State expenses, which goes into effect Jan. 1, 1883, will go far towards paying expenses for a year.

It would be difficult to compress, within the same amount of space, a larger number of untrue predictions or unwarranted conclusions, than is contained in the above, and we are completely surprised that the present intelligent editor of the Sentinel can conscientiously present to his readers such a mess of trash.

On Monday last the State Board of Examiners counted the money and vouchers in the State Treasury, and reported $216,563.85 in coin on hand; the $380,000 bond, $163,000 in State bonds, and $50,000 in United States bonds. The December settlement will bring into the Treasury $175,000 or thereabouts. Deduct State expenses for the ensuing six months, and even then there will be over $200,000 in the Treasury Jan. 1, 1883. The "borrowing power" of the State has been used to the extent of $166,000, leaving $134,000 that can be utilized, if necessary, in 1883-4. But it will not be necessary to run up to the full limit of the Constitution. State expenses will be less than ever for those fiscal years, and the revenue will be sufficient to carry on the State Government, without exhausting the borrowing power, and without any increase of the present rate of taxation.

A gold nugget weighing 67½ ounces was found by two miners at Osceola the other day. The Ward Reflex says: In the nugget line Osceola distances any gold mining district on the continent. Some years ago a nugget was found in these placer mines that was worth several thousand dollars.

The cost of living in Atlantic cities is 25 per cent. higher now than it was in 1880. In California board is higher than it was two years ago.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTERS.

Attractions of the Capital City—The Hub Mill, Mainstream.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14, 1882.

It has cost millions to make Washington beautiful, to make smooth her streets, to adorn her many parks, to fill her open squares with fountains and statuary; but no American, in the better sense of the word, can look on this city without a feeling of pride in the beauty of the capital of his country. The "Hub Mill," most of which have been planted within the last eight years, are now sufficiently large to shade the streets and relieve the sidewalks from that intense heat that has heretofore made Washington intolerable during the Summer months.

From a caravansary of government clerks, lobbyists, and every species of adventurer which composed the Washington of the years immediately following the war, the capital has grown to be a large city of beautiful residences. Retired army and navy officers, successful business men, men of prominence in literature, in science, and in art, from all parts of the country, have recognized the desirability of Washington as a winter residence, and, after having spent a season or two in the hotels, are now building beautiful residences. The capital certainly surpasses any city in the world of its population in tasteful houses with modern conveniences. Besides the palatial mansions that have been built by the Blaines, the Camerons, the Pendletons, the Robersons, and others of princely fortune, very many solid and comfortable homes of lesser pretension now occupy the places where negro shanties marred the landscape ten and even five years ago. True there are many good houses that have an existence antedating the war, and some of these, rich in historic association, attract the attention of the visitor with an interest that the mere triumphs of modern architecture cannot rival. The rooms occupied by your correspondent and in which your letters have been written during the last year were occupied by Alex Stephens and Robert Toombs in a time that now seems like ancient history.

If the places of government clerks, who compose so important a part of the population of Washington, were made secure and independent of political mutation, the city would gain a large increase in its substantial population. As it is now, a large proportion of these clerks are mere transient residents, afraid to buy homes for the reason that they feel how uncertain is the tenure of office under the rule that "to the victors belongs the spoils" of office. A great many clerks, however, have comfortable houses of their own. The savings from their salaries are not very large, but some of them have managed to buy or build homes that are models of modest comfort and not without the graces of tasteful architecture. In certain localities of the city there are what might be called civil service employee colonies, where blocks of small cosy houses have been built just suited to the size of the average government clerk. The remuneration of the clerks in the government offices varies from $650 to $2,500 per annum. The latter amount is given only to those who occupy important positions or who have experience in the complicated routine of office work. The average American citizen does not, perhaps, know that this Government in all the details of its stupendous bureaucracy is managed by the eighteen hundred dollar clerks, but it is so. These clerks prepare the documents which chiefs of bureau and cabinet officers sign, often without knowing what they contain and without the ability to understand them until explained by the chief clerk.

FAIRFAX.

Bullion Production for 1881.

In the annual report of Director of the Mint Burchard he gives the following statistics of the bullion production of the country for the calendar year 1881. The gold production deposited at the Mints and assay offices is $34,250,000, undeported exports, $160,000; undeported, used in the arts, $270,000. Total, $34,700,000. This is a gain from the production of 1880 of over $1,250,000.

The silver production is computed at its coinage value, and amounts to $43,000,000, or if computed at its commercial value, $37,000,000. Of this there was purchased for coinage, $25,008,268, deposited for bars, $2,300,000; undeported domestic bullion and used by manufacturers, $600,000.

Of the gold production about $26,000,000, or nearly four-fifths of the whole, came from the Pacific Coast mines, including those in Idaho and Arizona, and was deposited with the San Francisco and Carson Mints; while nearly $8,000,000 were received in Philadelphia and New York from Colorado and Montana. The total bullion production of the State of California as can be ascertained by the Mint Bureau was $18,950,000, of which $8,300,000 was gold, and $7,650,000 in silver.

Will some one take old "Rosey" to the cell adjoining Guiteau's.

LETTER FROM COLORADO.

An Unusual Season—The Weather and Crops—Fruit and Flowers—Denver 1882—The Exposition, Etc.

Denver, Col., June 9, 1882.

We have had much wet weather this past spring, scarcely a day passing without a rain, hail or thunder storm, which is an unusual thing for Colorado, but it is worth untold wealth to the farmers of this State. 'It is usually so dry through the entire year, and the sun so scorching, that the soil of irrigating the land is considerable, but this season it will be comparatively nothing. One curious fact is, however, that the sun, it is never sultry, there being always a fresh, invigorating breeze from the tops of these world-renowned, snow capped peaks, called the Rocky Mountains.

There are many wild flowers in bloom on the vast prairies which surround Denver on every side; some white ones, which have the beauty and fragrance of the tube rose; purple daisies; small yellow flowers, which are formed like the blue violet; the blue spider-like lily grows in a sand bank. This is the home of the cactus, and great quantities of them are budding and blossoming this month. Wild roses grow on the banks of the Platte river. Some of these flowers are as fragrant as your hot-house plants in Rhode Island. Strawberries and other fruits which require a hot sun and a short time for growth are raised here in great abundance.

There is a considerable amount of building in the city and its suburbs, and one structure in particular deserves mention—the Exposition building, on Broadway, about a mile out of the city, built by the National Mining and Industrial Association, to cost one hundred and thirty-five thousand dollars, and to be completed and ready for use by the first of August of the present year. 'And in addition to this will be handsome drives, and the grounds are to be laid out in a fine manner. In our "Queen City of the Plains" are many brick yards, and some very handsome different colored stone is got out of the mountains, about twelve or fifteen miles west of us; consequently all of the public and nearly all of the private buildings are composed of these materials.

Mrs. Garfield Well Off.

Mrs. Garfield has $300,000 in Government bonds, the result of the subscription. Then her husband's life was insured for $50,000, which she promptly received. She also was paid the salary of the President for the unoccupied first year, amounting to about $20,000. Then a bid to it about $30,000, the total value of Garfield's estate. That makes $400,000. The income from this total of more than $400,000 will be perhaps $16,000 a year. She is also put on the pension list at $5,000 a year. So she is comfortable, and can raise her children well. But she would give every dollar of it and take in washing for a living if it would bring back the Great Lamented.

June 20th, Queen Victoria had reigned just forty-five years. She ascended the throne June 20, 1837, and was crowned June 28th of the following year. She was married February 10, 1840, and became a widow December 14, 1861, by the death of the Prince Consort. She was born May 24, 1819, therefore is sixty-three years of age. The reigns of only three other English sovereigns have exceeded hers in length. They are that of Henry III., which lasted 56 years; that of Edward III., which numbered 50, and that of George III., which was the longest of all—60 years.

The contributions for sufferers by last year's fire in Michigan amounted in value to $1,500,000, of which two-thirds were cash.

Our Reno fire boys are incensed at being put off of the "48" just as the engine was starting for the Verdi fire. They want the Verdi folks to understand that they would have been on hand had there been any show of getting to Verdi. As everybody could not be taken, Mr. Lyman concluded he would not take anybody.

Closing Exercises of the Public Schools.

The new school building presented quite a festive appearance yesterday. The rooms were all beautifully decorated with flowers arranged in various designs, such as crosses, wreaths and mottoes. Several graceful horsehoes, composed entirely of pampies, were suspended from the partitions, and in the Principal's room the word "Excelsior," created from a mass of tea roses, was fastened above the front blackboard. The visitors were numerous throughout the day, the exercises in the four lower rooms being given in the forenoon. The most interesting programme of the schools on the upper floor being reserved for the afternoon. Our reporter, not being omnipresent, was obliged to be content with listening to the exercises of one room, or rather see in one. While this was being attended to, anecdotes of speeches and music, succeeded by rounds of applause, floated in from the other schools, showing that everything was passing off pleasantly, to the delight of appreciative audiences. The scholars in Mr. Ring's and Mr. Barstow's departments acquitted themselves creditably. The programme (which we print) was under the direction of the officers of the Lyceum Club, an institution which has existed during the term just ended. All the selections were good and well rendered, considering the age of some of the performers. The debate, which was well argued, was listened to with attention, both sides pleading their cause so admirably that the judges were unable to agree upon a verdict. The percentage attained upon their examinations was read, most of the pupils in the classes having good reports.

Burning of the Planing Mill and Other Buildings.

Night before last the Verdi Planing Mill was totally destroyed by fire. The flames communicated to several small residences on the south side of the track, east of the depot, and destroyed them. Five freight cars were also burned. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin. Two tramps insisted upon permission being given them to sleep in the mill. It was denied them, and they were driven away. Half an hour later the fire broke out. The mill was valued at $52,000, and was one of the best on the Truckee. We understand the insurance on it only amounts to $18,000, risks written by agents in Virginia City. The loss comes with double force at this time, as the mill was being run to its utmost capacity, and had orders for months ahead. There is some talk that Messrs. Loukey & Smith will rebuild at Reno, but of this we know nothing certain.

The Fun At The Track.

Six horses are already entered for the half-mile and repeat race at the track on the 4th of July. They are Keno, Katie Keyes, Ballot Box Jr., Tommy Chandler, Earnest and Cousin Vic.
Miss Fleanor Spargo and Miss Ida Marston, of Carson, will compete for the cornet double-tongue palka prize. They are perfectly willing to meet any player from any band in Nevada or California.
The track will be in splendid condition for racing on the 4th.

THE NEVADA INSANE ASYLUM.

One of the Handsomest and Most Substantial and Cheapest Buildings on the Coast.

(Winnemucca Silver State, 20th.

The Nevada Legislature of 1881 appropriated $80,000 for the purpose of erecting and furnishing an asylum for the insane at Reno. By the provisions of the Act the money was borrowed from the General School Fund of the State, at par, in exchange for State bonds. Several prominent citizens of Reno took the contract of building the Asylum for $60,000, in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the Board of Asylum Commissioners. The site selected was on a half section of land, owned by the State, a little over a mile east of Reno. The contractors personally superintended the construction of the building, and the result is one of the most substantial and handsome edifices in the State, and beyond doubt the cheapest public building west of the Rocky Mountains.

THE MAIN BUILDING

Has a depth of 160 feet; the front, including the wings, is 232 feet long, and it is three stories high. The foundation is of dressed stone, and the superstructure of brick. It is divided into six wards, comprising 100 rooms, some of which are large enough for six patients. The internal arrangements are as convenient as it was possible to make them. Every improvement that experience suggested for the safety of patients, and convenience in caring for them, was made in the building. The furniture is plain but substantial, the bedding, including mattresses, etc., being equal to that of ordinary hotels.

THE GROUNDS

As stated, comprise a part of 320 acres of land owned by the State. The soil is rich, and the surface level, and covered with sagebrush. The Superintendent, Dr. A. Dawson, of Reno, has had some six or seven acres of land, immediately in front of the building, cleared of sagebrush and sown to blue grass, which, in a year or two, will make a handsome lawn. There is abundance of water for irrigating purposes, and it is the intention of the Superintendent to cultivate sufficient land to supply the institution with vegetables. The grounds will be inclosed with a suitable fence, and fruit and shade trees set out as soon as an appropriation is made for the purpose.

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS

Such as a substantial inclosure, in which the male patients can exercise and amuse themselves in pleasant weather, and a handsome cottage for the Superintendent and his family, have been made on the grounds. There is also a well forty feet deep near the main building, from which water is raised by a steam pump to a tank of 18,000 gallons capacity, which is built on trestle work 86 feet above the ground. The lavatories, laundries, kitchen, etc., are supplied with water through pipes from this tank. As the well is sunk in quicksand, some trouble has been experienced in pumping the water, and the opinion prevails that it will be abandoned and that the Asylum will eventually be supplied from the Reno Water Works, which has sufficient pressure to force water to the highest rooms of the building.

THE INSANE PATIENTS

Number 150 persons, of whom 32 are females. They will be removed to their new home from Stockton, California, on the night of the 30th instant, in a special train consisting of seven sleeping coaches, which the railroad company has furnished for the occasion at one-half the regular rates. Dr. Dawson thinks the cost of maintaining them will not exceed 60 cents each per day, and that the State will save at least $2,000 per month by removing them from Stockton, where they have hitherto been farmed out to Langdon & Clark, and he has made contracts for supplies on a basis which warrants the belief that the cost of maintaining them will be much less than it has been.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always gives perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere.

SUSANVILLE ITEMS.

Shooting Scrape - Oregon - Travel 4th of July.

A shooting scrape occurred in Big Valley last Sunday. Tom Harris shot Samuel Watson, lodging nine buckshot in his back. On the day following Chas Young shot Harris. Harris cannot recover. Could not get any of the particulars of the cause. Harris is represented to be a bad man, and he is said to have served two terms in San Quentin.

Detectives are at work in the Lewis case and say they have a clue on two of the participants in the murder of Sheriff Lewis last Winter in Lake county, Oregon.

Crops are looking fine, the late rains helping them amazingly. Cherries and strawberries are in the market and of a quality and flavor that is unsurpassed.

The mountains west and north of here are literally alive with sheep.

Travel eastward is on the increase. Families pass through here daily en route for Montana, Colorado and Idaho.

The coming 4th of July will be a grand day here this year. Grand Master I. O. O. F., will dedicate the new hall of Silver Star Lodge, No. 134, I. O. O. F.

SUSANVILLE, June 21, 1882.

What Others say of Us.

The Lakeview Examiner says "O. U. Snider returned the other day from his trip to Reno and Virginia. He reports times on the Comstock as being very dull with but little prospect of brightening. Reno is lively as usual and the citizens have great faith in the future of the town. The business men of Reno are alive to the importance of securing the trade of this upper country, and are lending every assistance in their power to encourage the building of the Nevada and Oregon narrow gauge railroad. Some little fear is expressed because of the O. P. R. R. Co. concentrating supplies and railroad iron at Wadsworth, that that company contemplates building a road from Wadsworth to out of the Nevada and Oregon. Even if these fears are well grounded it would not affect this section, as the Wadsworth road would be compelled to pass through here on its way to the northern boundary of the State. We had much rather see Reno, since she has taken the initiative, reap the benefit her enterprises entitles her to, however, and hope that the Nevada and Oregon will be a success financially and otherwise."

Venue predicts that Saturdays and Sundays in June and July will be the days of change to unfavorable weather. It is generally that way.

Tom Barnett intends to give the people a benefit, no more nor less than a grand clearance sale of his immense stock of boots and shoes, furnishing goods, etc. The sale will commence on the 4th of June and continue ninety days.

Remember to take a bath at Pechner's to-day. Hot and cold water, and a shower, clean towels, etc.
